Junior Business Analyst (0-2 years of experience)

Are you a fresh graduate in economics, and interested in banking industry and IT? Do you feel like participating in design and implementation of lending and risk management software solutions for banks? Do you already have up to 2 years of experience as business analyst? If so, apply to join our team and gain professional experience as a Business Analyst for international banking projects.

Loxon Solutions is a software vendor and consulting company offering lending and risk management, assets and liability management, and profitability software solutions for the financial services industry. Loxon customers are major banks and banking groups as Raiffeisen, Erste, KBC, Intesa Sanpaolo, UniCredit, OTP, Societe Generale, GE Money. The projects and activities of the company cover 25 countries in CEE, CIS and MEA regions. Loxon Solutions has a team of 25 people in Romania, 250 people overall.

Responsibilities:

- Organize business workshops and collect business requirements;
- Analyze business requirements and identify gaps;
- Create business specifications and business models;
- Create the logical design of the custom application, according to business requirements;
- Prepare specifications for technical development;
- Take ownership for the proper application setup;
- Create the test scenarios from a business perspective;
- Perform testing activities.

Education and experience:

- Graduation of Finance & Banking University from Academy of Economic Studies (or similar universities), also, a plus will be considered the graduation of the master studies from the same University;
- The canditdate should be interested in banking industry, and open to learn lending and risk management solutions from business perspective;
- Interested to learn project work, how to manage project activities, how to plan resources and milestones, how to handle customer workshops, how to present project status.

Required skills:

- Knowledge of Microsoft Office softwares;
- Basic understanding of the SQL language (using of simple SQL statement and data queries) and Oracle database will be an advantage;
- Excellent communication skills;
- Able to work in stressful project environment, under deadlines;
- Proactive working style, taking initiatives and developing the knowledge base;
- Open-mindedness;
- Willingness to share the knowledge with other team members;
- Willingness to travel.